

Diamond Log Cabin Quilt Block Pattern

The Diamond Log Cabin Block is a striking variation of the traditional log cabin design. Unlike the classic square layout, this version creates a radiant diamond shape that instantly becomes the focal point of any quilt. It's an excellent choice for quilters who love geometric balance, symmetry, and bold visual impact. This block is also a wonderful way to play with color values. Starting with a light center and gradually working outward with darker fabrics, you can achieve a glowing, three-dimensional effect. Whether you use solids, prints, or even scraps, the Diamond Log Cabin Block is sure to elevate your quilting projects.

Finished Block Size: 12 ½" x 12 ½" (unfinished) – finishes at 12" square when sewn into a quilt.

Materials Needed: Fabric in 5 color values (light → dark) Cutting mat, rotary cutter, quilting ruler Sewing machine, thread, pins, iron and pressing mat Foundation paper (optional)

Cutting Instructions (for 12 ½" block):

- Center Square: 1 square 2 ½" x 2 ½"
- Strips: 2" wide, lengths slightly longer than needed, trim after sewing.
- Pieces 2–5: ~3 ½" long
- Pieces 6–9: ~5" long
- Pieces 10–13: ~7" long
- Pieces 14–17: ~9" long
- Pieces 18–21: ~11" long
- Pieces 22–25: ~13" long
- Outer border (optional): 2" wide x 14" long

Sewing Instructions:

1. Start with the center square (Piece 1: 2 ½" square).
2. First Round (Pieces 2–5): Add 3 ½" strips around the square.
3. Second Round (Pieces 6–9): Add 5" strips around.
4. Continue Building (Pieces 10–21): Add 7", 9", and 11" strips in sequence.
5. Outer Round (Pieces 22–25): Add 13" strips around the block.
6. Border (Piece 31, optional): Add 2" x 14" strip to square the block at 12 ½".

Design Ideas:

- Grayscale fabrics for a 3D diamond effect.
- Scrappy style with leftover strips.
- Alternate light and dark diamonds for a bold quilt.
- Use one block as a centerpiece or wall hanging.

Conclusion:

The Diamond Log Cabin Block is a creative twist on the traditional log cabin. With its bold geometry and endless color possibilities, it is a must-try for quilters who love statement designs. Whether you're making a full quilt, a table runner, or a single block for a pillow, this pattern is versatile and stunning every time.
